

THE GLOBALRAD FOUNDATION

Thank you for your interest in contributing to our growing library of radiology teaching cases. Through your efforts and the efforts of others like you, this library will provide students, physicians, and researchers throughout the world unprecedented access to radiological images. With your help, the library will continue to expand to meet the needs of a rapidly growing worldwide digital medical community.

The GlobalRad teaching file is unique because:

1. It stores the images in their original fidelity
2. It utilizes a unique, logical hierarchical database structure based on organ system, anatomic location, pathologic category and specific disease processes.
3. The images can be retrieved (with or without compression) and manipulated (e.g., window/level, magnification, rotation) by the user.
4. The database is open to anyone free of charge.
5. With the appropriate software, anyone can submit images.

PLEASE READ AND COMPLETE THE FOLLOWING

The software you will install has a 30 day license. After fulfilling the requirements indicated in the "Software Agreement with NovaRad" section, you will be able to obtain a serial number to register your copy of the software for unlimited use.

READ THE FOLLOWING BEFORE POSTING TEACHING FILES ON THE GLOBALRAD SITE:

Disclaimer: The intent of GlobalRad is to provide the free exchange of medical information and teaching files for radiology. It does not warranty the validity or accuracy of cases submitted, nor any of the associated medical references. It assumes no liability for medical decision-making that may result from information gleaned at this site.

Patient Confidentiality:

"In accordance with patient privacy laws, no patient identifying medical information is allowed into the GlobalRad system. The server will automatically strip information such as the patient's name, date of birth, patient identifier, and accession number from the Dicom header. As the submitting physician, you are responsible to ensure that no other patient identifying information is present on the image or the film submitted. Care should be particularly taken with digitized films, images that are frame-grabbed, or Dicom images in which header information such as the patient's name is printed on the image itself. The physician and submitting institution will indemnify and hold GlobalRad harmless resulting from any breach of patient confidentiality."

Software Agreement with NovaRad:

You will be downloading software for one of the most sophisticated PACS workstations available on the market at no charge to you. In order to qualify for this, you agree to the following:

- 1 . Certify that you participate in an approved radiology residency or fellowship program.
- 2 . A willingness to find and refer two other participants at two other institutions. This will facilitate the rapid proliferation of the GlobalRad project.
- 3 . Maintain a computer connection running Windows 2000/XP with access to the Internet and digital medical images.
- 4 . Provide GlobalRad with unrestricted use of the medical case material submitted for nonprofit educational or research use. However, the cases submitted remain the copyrighted property of the submitting physician and/or institution.
- 5 . The files posted are for nonprofit educational purposes only. Any other use without express permission from GlobalRad constitutes misuse of this site.
6. You agree to submit a minimum of five cases within the first 30 days.
7. You agree to abide by the license agreement of NovaRad (see attached file).

Check this box if you do not wish to receive marketing materials (electronic, printed, or otherwise) from sponsoring companies of the GlobalRad project. Remeber however, a significant portion of our budget comes from the generosity of corporate sponsors.

LICENSE AGREEMENT:

IMPORTANT: PLEASE READ CAREFULLY BEFORE INSTALLING OR USING THE SOFTWARE PACKAGE:

Software License Agreement:

Read this License Agreement before installing or using the Software Program Package (software). A customer is sold only a license agreement to use this software. The software is never sold. This agreement is a legal contract between you the end user and NovaRad Corporation (NovaRad), governing your use of the software, all printed materials accompanying the software, and any on-line or electronic documentation that may be accessible to support the software. Installation or use of this software indicates your acceptance of this agreement. This agreement shall also be binding on any subsequent, authorized licensee. If you do not wish to agree to the terms of this agreement, promptly return the complete software program package to the representative from whom you received the product or certify that all versions of the software have been uninstalled from all computer systems.

Notification of Copyright:

This software is a proprietary product of NovaRad, and is protected by copyright laws and international copyright treaties. You must treat the software like any other copyrighted material, except that you may make one copy of the software solely for backup or archival purposes or you may place the software on a single hard disk, provided that you keep the original software solely for backup or archival purposes. Copyright laws prohibit making additional copies of the software for any other reason.

All titles and copyrights to and in the software (including but not limited to any images, photographs, animations, video, audio, music, text, and applets incorporated into the software), the accompanying printed materials, and any copies of the software are owned by NovaRad. Civil and criminal penalties may be imposed upon you for violations of this license agreement and applicable copyright laws. You may not copy the written materials accompanying the software.

License:

1. NovaRad grants you the right to use one copy of the software on a single user computer, or a single terminal or workstation of a multi-user computer or local area network. Each workstation or terminal on a multi-user computer or local area network must be separately licensed by NovaRad.
2. The software is in use on a computer when it is loaded into temporary memory (i.e. RAM) or installed into permanent memory (e.g. hard disk, Cd-ROM or other storage device) of that computer.
3. You may not sublicense, rent or lease this software.
4. NovaRad grants you the right to make a backup or archival copy of the software diskettes as set forth in the notification of copyright, above. You may not decompile, disassemble, reverse engineer, copy, transfer or otherwise use the software except as stated above.

5. If the software is an upgrade, whether from NovaRad or some other supplier, you may use or transfer the software only in conjunction with the upgrade product. Your use of the upgrade will be controlled by the same terms of this agreement as though the software was the original package instead of any upgrade. The fact that the software is an upgrade does not relieve you of any of your liabilities and responsibilities with respect to use of the software.

Limited Warranty and Limitations of Remedies:

NovaRad warrants that the product shall be free from defects in materials and workmanship under normal use and service for a period of sixty (60) days. NovaRad expressly disclaims any right or warranty, either express or implied, including, but not limited to, implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose. There are no warranties either expressed or implied which extend beyond the description of the face hereof.

The exclusive remedy for breach of warranty is limited to, at NovaRad's option, either (a) the repair of any product that does not meet NovaRad's limited warranty, or (b) the refund of the purchase price paid as proven by proof of purchase. This limited warranty is void if the defect has resulted from accidents, abuse or misapplication. In no event shall NovaRad be liable for any other damages, including without limitation, consequential damages, the loss of profits, business interruption, personal injury, or any other damages. In no event will NovaRad be liable for any damages in excess of the purchase price.

Except as specifically stated in this agreement, no other warranties exist.

The person using this product should be a licensed health care professional in compliance with all laws and ordinances governing the utilization of medical imaging technology. He or she alone is responsible to determine if image quality is adequate for diagnostic interpretation. NovaRad assumes no responsibility for errors of diagnostic interpretation, errors of patient identification or inadequate image quality. NovaRad assumes no responsibility for decisions made or not made by health care professionals concerning when or how to use the NovaRad systems in an emergency situation or any other clinical decision.

In the event that any conflict exists between this License Agreement and any other document associated with or relating to the purchase, installation or use of NovaRad products, the terms of this License Agreement shall take precedence and govern the relationships herein.

General Provisions:

If any provision of this agreement shall be deemed unlawful, void or for any reason unenforceable, then that provision shall be deemed severable from the agreement and shall not affect the validity and enforceability of the remaining provisions of this agreement.

This agreement is governed by the laws of the State of Utah. By using this software, you agree to be bound by the laws of the State of Utah with respect to any dispute, controversy or claim arising out of the purchase and use of this software.
